DESCRIPTION:

This tour was tailored to meet specific needs of those who are interested in contested history and contested contemporary issues of the area. By focusing on the historical and contemporary taboos, this tour aims at specific knowledge that moves away from classical tour narratives and focuses on 'with no gloves on' approach that will result in specific insight of local contested issues that are shaping today's society.

Although this tour aims at above mentioned specific knowledge, it is also done by covering Split's centre main sites and locations, so it is well fitted tour for Split's beginners and for the people who want to broaden their local experience. To make it enriching and unique experience for the people visiting Split, the tour is followed by audio-visual material presented on tablet, making that every contested issue is covered with more than one sense, to make memorable insight of the subject covered. By joining this tour, you can blend all your interests in one experience since the tour escapes the idea of fitting into one category. It combines narratives about politics and geopolitics, religion, identity, demographics, sexuality, history, and economics. The rounded storytelling connects past and present of the area, creating deep insight and understanding of ongoing social processes.
