Brief description of the excursion/tour and highlights:

After the meeting and reception, we will adjust the bikes according to your needs. We will familiarize you with the security rules and inform you about the content of the program. We will visit and see the ethno village "Sinković", the restaurant "Lojzekova Hiža", the monument to the peasant revolt, Golubovec castle, the birthplace of Matija Gupca, the 450-year-old "Gupčeva lipa", the monument to Rudolf Perešin. The distance is 40 km (asphalt) with a total ascent from 680 m. We can help you if you want to rent a bike (MTB or E-bike). The price includes the use of a bicycle helmet and a backpack with a bottle of water and an energy bar. Guests must be at least 16 years old, and the maximum number of guests is 10.

DESCRIPTION:

We will start the drive with a gentle climb to Hum Bistrički and Gusakovec, where we will see the ethnic village "Sinković". We will see traditional old houses and old agricultural tools. We will reach the restaurant "Lojzek's house" which is located in a typical local traditional house on the edge of the forest. After the rest, we will continue driving to the hill "Samci", where we will visit the Monument to the Peasant Rebellion. There we will tell you the story of the peasant rebellion from the 16th century and their leader Matija Gubec. We will visit the "Golubovec" castle and tell the story of its owner Maksimilijan Vrhovac, a bishop from the 18th century. We will visit the birthplace of Matija Gubec. We will go down to the church in Gornja Stubica, where there is a 450-year-old Gupča lime tree. There is a traditional house from the 19th century and a small restaurant with local dishes. In the center of Gornja Stubica, we will look at the MIG 21, a monument to the Croatian pilot Rudolf Perešin, a hero of the 1991-95 Homeland War. This is followed by a long ascent through the village of Sveti Matej to Laz Bistrički, the highest point of our route. We will return to Marija Bistrica, downhill 7 kilometers long.
